

Lotus Professional® nextTurn™ Hand Towel dispenser

Lotus Professional® has unveiled its latest Hand Towel offering for away from home washrooms with the release of the nextTurn™ Hand Towel system.

The nextTurn™ Hand Towel dispenser's optimised design provides ease of use for both the end user and facilities managers. With one of the lowest pull forces on the market, the optimised cutting mechanism means the nextTurn™ Hand Towel is extremely comfortable to use. And, with controlled dispensing, the system is also cost effective as it helps to reduce wastage.

The nextTurn™ Hand Towel system provides reliable single sheet dispensing, issuing the end user with measured quantities of high quality, highly absorbent 2-ply embossed hand towels.

The shock resistant polycarbonate shell and metal lock protects the product making it a hardwearing choice against everyday wear and tear.

Peter Maxwell, Trade Marketing Manager for Lotus Professional® said: "The nextTurn™ brand offers simple yet effective solutions for businesses across a range of sectors, from HoReCa to healthcare. Products across the range deliver high performance without impacting upon style.

The nextTurn™ Hand Towel embossed roll is easily identifiable with the exclusive Lotus Professional® lotus flower design.
